TEAM-BUILDING GAME SHOWS AND QUIZZES

HERE ARE JUST A FEW OF OUR CLIENTS' FAVORITES:

CAB CHALLENGE

Take your audience on a wild ride around New York City. The race can be tailored to fit your company's identity or the city of your choice.

CASE STUDY

The Jewish National Fund (JNF) injected style and excitement into their glamorous sports-themed dinner with an interactive quiz from IML.

Four hundred supporters gathered at New York's plush Marriot Marquis hotel to take part in "Game On!" a benefit evening in aid of building sports facilities for children in Israel.

Fun and excitement was the order of the evening for an audience of tech-savvy professionals who sat down to enjoy the lively table entertainment on offer.

Game On!

Guests were instantly gripped by round-one of IML's fast-paced sports quiz which gave them just 30 seconds to answer a series of questions using their Communicator keypad. A ticking countdown clock was displayed alongside the questions on huge cinema screens to add to the tension and incite competitiveness!

As round one continued, questions grew harder and the competition intensified, with sounds of laughter and frustration coming from hyped-up guests under pressure to answer quickly.

Sound effects, music and "name that face" questions all added to the fun and by the end of round one, the atmosphere was buzzing. A scoreboard displaying the top ten performing teams marked the halfway point and fuelled friendly rivalry.

The second round followed an exciting live auction and was even more action-packed than the first, with loud cheering and laughter from guests who had great fun contending for the top spot on the leader board.

As the 30 second countdown on the last question began, tension mounted amongst guests eager to know which team had won. The final scores were displayed instantly and guests cheered and clapped for the winners.

ARE YOU SMARTER THAN A CEO?

Let the boss show he's a good sport by having him compete against employees in this popular game show.

SUDOKU

In this ultimate team-building game, teams strategize to solve the puzzle in time.

SUMMIT CHASE

Hilarious animations and music make this a perfect choice for closing night entertainment.

"IML's interactive quiz game was recommended to us as an excellent way to absorb guests into the competitive spirit of the evening, and it really worked! The IML team created a quiz especially for the JNF and were fantastic, providing action-packed entertainment from start to finish. "

Elisa Schindler, National Director of the JNF
